U.S. Tax Reform Provides Slight Lift to Economic Growth

- Lower rates on corporate and personal income should increase business investment and consumer consumption during 2018.
- Anticipated employment gains and wage growth
- As inflation remains close to 2 percent target and labor situation improves, federal funds rate is projected to rise gradually, perhaps to 1.75 percent by 2018 Q3.
- However, after tax reform boost, business investment is expected to slow, along with labor force growth, which will lower consumption later in the year and into 2019.

Property & Casualty Insurance: Adapt

Traditional insurance models need to adapt to:

- Fewer insurable workers due to robotic automation of industrial processes
- Sharing economy will shift insurance policies more toward commercial
- Fewer home owners, more renters

Retail: The Experience

Physical stores: Experiences that make the customer feel relaxed and comfortable lead to increases in sales and a clear differentiation from the online experience.

Online Stores: In addition to offering faster delivery times, online businesses have formed partnerships with stores for pick-up and return options.

Warehousing

- ✓ Rapid delivery
- ✓ Smaller packages
- ✓ Variety of goods

VS.

Large number of same goods on pallets

Financial Services

New trends:

- ✓ User friendly online interface
- ✓ Fewer/no local bankers
- ✓ International expansion

Longer-term goals:

- ✓ Enhancing cyber security
- ✓ Responding to breaches in a transparent and customer friendly way

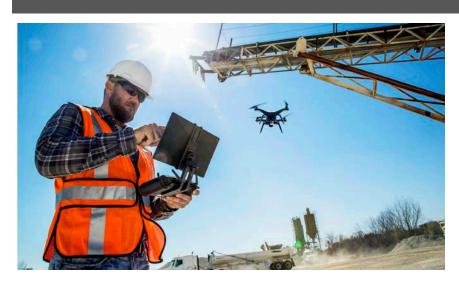

- Automation and robotic technology becomes more widespread for manufacturing businesses
- Will cause disruption or displacement of jobs but will also will create approximately 15 million new jobs in the U.S. over the next ten years

Construction - Slow Growth

ADVANTAGES OFFSET BY CHALLENGES

Technology advancements:

-Drones, self-driving vehicles, visualization Software and hardware

Increased costs in raw materials and labor

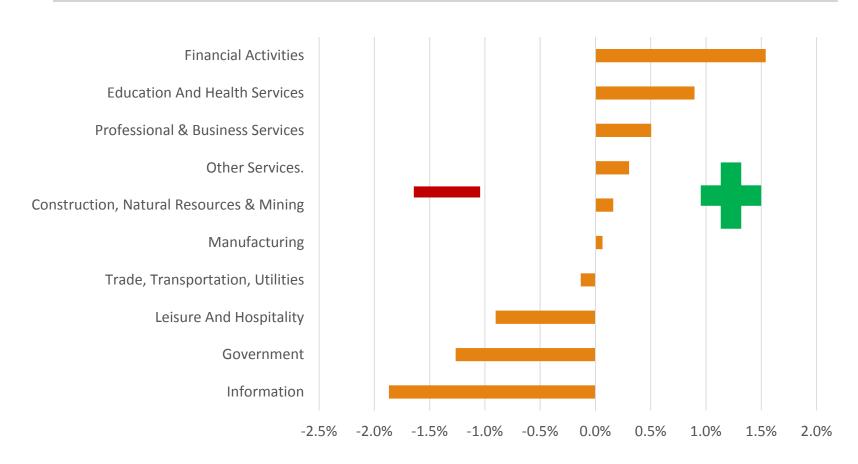

Healthcare

- The cost of health care and medical procedures continues to grow
- Major focus of the industry is figuring out ways to reduce costs without compromising quality of care
